DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 3, 4, 6, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 8 requires the computing of an estimated chronological serial number based on previously matched serial numbers. According to the disclosure this is only possible if some threshold level of matches has been made. Thus there is no written support for making the prediction absent this threshold requirement regarding which the claim is completely silent. The claim implies that the prediction will take place for every piece of mail in the second pass but this is not actually the case. Including a step to the effect of processing a number of mail pieces in the second sorting pass to achieve a threshold number of matches to fingerprints from the first sorting pass or otherwise including the threshold requirement would overcome this rejection.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. Claim 3 is listed as dependant from claim 2 which is now cancelled. It is assumed that claim 3 should depend from new claim 8 but correction is required in order to clarify the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

6. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 3, 4, 6, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The method claims are not tied to another statutory class of invention. It is not apparent from the claims that any particular machine or structure is actually required for the practice of the method. Additionally the claims are not transformative. Claim 8 mentions sorting but it is not positively recited and it is unclear what is meant by "sort the current item". In order to render the claim statutory under 101 and to actually require all the limitations discussed it must be linked to another statutory class and it must be transformative. To render the conditional limitations as required it must be clear that each outcome is transformative and that both outcomes of any conditional are accounted for. In this case this would mean positively reciting sorting or rejecting steps relative to each match or non-match that results. This means reciting sorting and rejecting steps in a manner such that the sorting and rejecting are required to take place as method steps. For instance the current claim language “if no match is obtained the current item is sent to a reject outlet” makes it clear that when there is no match the items is rejected, which means it is actually sent to a reject outlet. The earlier discussion of sorting and rejecting (such as in lines 12-13) are less specific and it is unclear from these recitations what if anything actually must happen in either case.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
